PROPERTY SUMMARY

This riverfront gem is a flat out fantastic waterfowl hunting, whitetail hunting & all around recreational paradise near the famous Neosho Wildlife Area of St. Paul, Kansas. Many of the Neosho mallards, along with some from multiple other area lakes and reservoirs, use this WRP property for food and refuge, providing phenomenal waterfowl hunting from early teal season through January. The wetland and riverfront timber also provide some of the best whitetail habitat you'll find in the area, assuring that you'll have a hard time deciding whether to be in the woods or on the water come November. Once you add in some of the best spring turkey hunting you can imagine, the ability to trap multiple species and fishing in the river, you'll start to understand that we're talking about a truly premier hunting and conservation property with very few equals. The hunting history here is fantastic for deer, ducks and turkeys.
