PROPERTY SUMMARY

73 +/- acres of excellent recreational ground located in the heart of northern Missouri. This farm has been historically used as a high-fence operation for competitive dog events. That being said, sections of the fence have been recently removed and deer are quickly finding their way into largely un-touched habitat and food sources. A mature deer was recently harvested during Missouri's rifle season and is the first deer killed on the farm in several years. The remaining fence creates an extremely unique opportunity to strategically control deer movement around the perimeter of the farm. The owner will work with the buyer to remove or leave as much of the fence as requested.
